

Follow these steps to prepare for German Cockroach Service.

On _____ at ____ AM/PM, a First Response® Service Professional will stop by to treat for German cockroaches.

German cockroaches are notorious for being difficult to control. Therefore, your cooperation and preparation for our cockroach control service is key to the success of the control program.

Kitchen

- Remove all dishes, food and other items and place them on a table in another room. Cover these items with a sheet or towels.
- Vacuum any particles or small debris from inside cabinets and wipe with a damp cloth.
- Sweep/vacuum under the stove and refrigerator if these appliances can be moved.

Pantry

- Remove all food and other items and place on a table in another room. Cover these items with a sheet or towels.
- Vacuum any particles or small debris from shelves and floor and wipe with a damp cloth.

Bathroom

- Remove items from inside bathroom vanities and any closets inside bathrooms. Place the items inside a trash bag, put them in the bathtub and cover with a sheet or towel.
- Vacuum any particles or small debris from shelves and floor and wipe with a damp cloth.

Other Preparation

- Remove pet dishes and water bowls.
- Cover fish tanks with a damp towel and turn off the pump. Note: Saltwater tanks may need to be removed from the premises as the air pumps cannot be disconnected. Discuss options for areas where saltwater tanks are present (such as cockroach bait only) with your Terminix Service Professional.
- Pets, including birds, reptiles, etc., should be removed from the premises.
- (In case your First Response Service Professional recommends) Be prepared to leave the premises after the service and return when the application has dried, usually 2 to 4 hours.

The above items have been explained to me and I understand their importance.
